The third annual meeting of the Centennial Board of Finance was held in Philadelphia on Thursday. The annual report says that according to the estimates of expenditures there are enough funds provided to cover every obligation up to the day of opening. The only aid received from the States during the year, in addition to that previously reported, was as follows: New Hampshire, $10,000; Connecticut, $10,000. The entire cost of the exhibition is estimated at $8,500,000. The whole outlay will be provided from the following sources: State of Pennsylvania, $1,000,000; city of Philadelphia, $1,500,000; concessions, gifts and interests, $500,000; subscriptions, $2,500,000; appropriation by Congress, $1,500,000. Total, $7,500,000. As this shows a deficiency of $1,000,000, that amount must be supplied from admission fees. Tickets will be fifty cents; children to pay as adults.

The Mormons are getting alarmed about Christianity's bill. The Deseret News editorially says: "It is aimed at the vital function of the exercise of civil and religious liberty in Utah. If things continue to move as they are now moving, the people will be forced to flee to countries and Governments where they may enjoy liberty in civil and religious matters." It ends by saying: "Shame, that any man should be allowed to offer such a retrogressive bill in the United States Congress, or suggest one, with impunity." It is hoped by all Gentiles in the Territory that the bill will become a law.

By latest advices from Washington it is not doubted but the new tariff bill of the House Committee on Ways and Means will pass the House after a discussion of a week or two. But its fate in the Senate will probably be more in accord with the resolutions of the National Labor Convention adopted on Wednesday, which demand of Congress a strong protective tariff, and ask that the regulative tariff duties be such as to protect home industries against foreign competition.

Excepting $25,000 for subsistence at the Southern Apache Agency, New Mexico, the annual Deficiency bill as passed by both Houses contains no provision whatever for the Indian Service indebtedness in the Pacific Coast States and Territories. The Department requested an appropriation of nearly $300,000 to pay these liabilities, which are held by a large number of persons, including various San Francisco merchants, and dated back from one to three years.

STATE NEWS

The County Teachers' Institute will be held at the Third Ward School house in Virginia City, commencing on Thursday, May 4, at 10 o'clock A. M., and lasting two days.

W. S. Mesick, a brother of Richard S. Mesick, has been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Nevada.

The farmers of Paradise Valley have finished sowing grain for this season. The amount sown exceeds that of any previous year.

It is understood that the public schools of Virginia will remain in session one month longer than usual this year. This course will be taken because of the time lost last Fall in consequence of the great fire.

A vacation of one week will be granted to all the schools of Virginia commencing Monday. This is because so much sickness and indisposition prevails among the teachers and students. Colds and coughs are the most general disorders.

MEXICAN COMPLICATIONS.

We are getting an insight of the Mexican troubles on the Rio Grande frontier, and find that they are simply the outcroppings of the revolutionary elements of that unfortunate republic. For a score of years past, and in fact for the entire period within the memory of middle-aged people, that country has been rent and torn with civil dissensions, petty political feuds, and also entangled by predatory raids upon neighboring territory.

Again, the Mexican Republic is made up of several States which are not harmonious in interest, and each of which have many political aspirants, who are always longing and hankering for office—from the Hidalgo justice to the President, and the General in Chief of her armies.

But the present disturbance with the United States has originated in the predatory raids of lawless hordes of frontiersmen, who have crossed the Rio Grande and depredated on the merchants and planters, for a hundred miles up and down that river. In these raids they have stolen immense numbers of cattle and horses (driving them across the fords), and in some instances have burned dwellings and wantonly murdered our citizens. The remedy for all this outrage is, for our Government to make immediate demands on the authorities of Mexico to check this lawlessness, and if that power can not, or will not, restrain its predatory desperadoes, then we must punish them ourselves. And if that fails to restore peace along the frontier of the Rio Grande, we can seize a slice of territory bordering that river, and annex it to the United States.

JONES' SPEECH.

Senator Jones has the floor on the silver question. The bill came up in the Senate on Thursday and Boggy then read a long speech on the money question and the history of silver and gold. He believed the Constitution intended that silver should be equally a legal tender with gold. Silver was a legal tender in the United States up to 1853, when the gold dollar was coined and silver as a legal tender was restricted to $5. He read from various works on the subject of the currencies of the world, and discussed the subject in a historical and constitutional point of view. Until a few years ago, all laws authorizing issues of bonds, had provided for their payment in coin, which meant either gold or silver. The later laws, providing for their payment in gold, were a great mistake. He answered at length the objections to making silver a legal tender. Suppose it did drive gold out of the country; we had untold quantities of silver, new fields of it are being constantly discovered, and we would be the silver nation of the world.

Jones obtained the floor, but gave way to a motion to go into executive session, after which the Senate adjourned till Monday. Tomorrow then Senator Jones will deliver a speech which is to electrify the nation.

OUR CANDIDATE.

In another column we publish an editorial from the San Francisco Post which gives a very fair statement of Bristow's chances for the Republican nomination, showing that he is likely to receive the nomination on the second ballot if not the first. We need not reiterate that Bristow is the most available candidate, and we believe that by the time the Convention meets at Cincinnati public opinion will have settled the question as to who shall be the nominee. Bristow is gaining strength hourly. His protest against the Democratic star chamber proceedings, and his demand that all accusations against him be publicly investigated is no more than could be expected of such a man. If he has committed any wrong he is willing for the people to be made acquainted with the circumstances without delay. His honesty and integrity can not be undermined, and the people are becoming more confident that with him at the helm we shall again experience the good old days of Washington and Jefferson.

A great amount of new and fine machinery is being put up in all parts of the Comstock range, to run nothing of the very powerful hoisting engines and pumping apparatus shortly to be erected by a number of leading companies.

Bristow's Political Horoscope.

Mr. Sam Bowles' paper, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, avers that Secretary Bristow will have two-thirds to three-quarters of the New England delegates to the Cincinnati Convention, and Blaine the rest. As the whole New England delegation is 80, this reckoning would give Bristow, say 60, and Blaine 20 votes from that section of the Union. The Republican is perhaps the best informed paper politically in New England, and its utterings are entitled to respect. If Mr. Bristow can come up to these figures, all the talk of having no organized party or force for the nomination is idle. That he will secure Kentucky, Tennessee, Iowa, Missouri, and in the event of the withdrawal of Governor Hayes, Ohio, also, is now pretty well understood. These States have an aggregate of 144 votes; to which add 60 for New England, and Bristow's reliable strength in the Convention is 204 votes almost at the beginning. But this is not all, nor the best of the showing. Although Mr. Morton, Mr. Blaine and Mr. Conkling are counting much upon organization, the power of discipline and machine politics, neither of them, nor all together, can count with as much confidence as Bristow on that growing and coercive power of public opinion which backs the Secretary with ever increasing force, and is sure to control its choice if they give as much consideration to the election as to the nomination. Bristow is, above all others so far named, the choice of the people, the aversion of all corruptionists and rings who have brought the Republican party low to the verge of ruin. The conviction or exposure of every Babcock and other crooked conspirator will assist Bristow in about the same proportion that it will injure the prospects of Conkling and weaken and distract the opposing factions of Blaine and Morton. Bristow has everything to gain between this and the 14th of June, while his leading antagonists, depending on organization and machine politics, are constantly losing. It is a disputed point at this time whether Morton or Conkling is the stronger in the South, where it is generally conceded Blaine has little or no strength. It may transpire in the next thirty days that Bristow will be stronger there than the three together. If so, his nomination cannot be defeated, save by the introduction of the "Great Unknown" at the last moment. Of all the names so far presented, Bristow's is the only one that can satisfy the Liberal Republicans and harmonize all the decent elements of the party. Without this harmony, the election is in imminent peril, and the moral force of this doubt will greatly improve Mr. Bristow's chances as the leaders come to a juster appreciation of the situation. This opinion is gaining ground at the East in spite of all the efforts of machine politicians to suppress it. The New York Sun, hitherto in favor of Conkling and in the constant habit of throwing cold water upon the prospects of Bristow, said on the 11th of this month: "There is only one man named as a Republican candidate for President from whom any reform in the public service could be expected, and that man is Benjamin H. Bristow, of Kentucky. Every one of the others, namely: Conkling, Morton, Hayes, of Ohio—and these are the only serious candidates—would merely continue, with perhaps some small improvement, the system which has brought the country where it is."—S. F. Post.

The Teachers' Convention.

A Teachers' Convention will be held at the Third Ward School-house in Virginia City, commencing on Thursday, May 4, at 10 o'clock A. M., and lasting two days. All teachers connected with the public schools of Storey county are expected to be in attendance. Teachers of public schools in Lyon, Ormsby and Washoe counties are especially invited. An effort will be made to secure half-fare tickets over the Virginia and Truckee Railroad for teachers who desire to attend the Convention. It is hoped that all teachers who wish to come will be granted the necessary furlough, and it would not be too much to ask the Board of School Directors of the several counties to pay the fare of such teachers, inasmuch as the Storey Co. authorities have granted Prof. Flint $100 for defraying the expenses of the meeting, which will be conducted equally for the benefit of all. It is difficult for one county to get up a convention of this kind of sufficient interest and merit to attract and benefit teachers, but by joining their forces they will be able to make the gathering both pleasant and instructive. All persons interested in educational affairs will be welcomed. Teachers are requested to prepare short essays upon subjects of their own selection. Rev. S. P. Kelly, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will probably be in attendance; also, a number of other gentlemen and ladies well versed in educational matters. Principals of schools in neighboring counties are requested to forward to Professor Flint the day before the opening of the institute the names of teachers in their districts who will probably attend, in order that suitable accommodations can be provided for them during their stay.—G. H. News.

SILVER COINAGE.

That of the United States Becoming Complicated—Its History.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

The silver coinage of the United States is rapidly becoming complicated. Its history is interesting. The first plan for a national coinage was that of Robert and Gouverneur Morris in 1782. But in 1786 the Congress of the Confederation adopted a system of national coinage prepared by Mr. Jefferson. This Act designated the names to be given to the coins and fixed the weights and fineness of each coin. The eagle or $10 piece was to contain 240 grains of fine gold; a dollar was to contain 375 grains of fine silver. The smaller coins were to have proportionate weights of gold or silver. The proportion was about 1 to 16. It was not, however, until after the organization of the Union that the coinage received attention. In 1792 laws were enacted for the establishment of a Mint, and the weight of the eagle was fixed at 270 grains of the fineness of 916-1000, and the dollar to contain 416 grains, the fineness to be 1,485 parts silver in a total of 1,664. The cent was to have 204 grains of copper. A year later the cent was reduced to 208 grains, and in 1796 the cent was further reduced to 168 grains. The dollar was made the unit of Federal money, and with the gold and silver coinage were made legal tenders. In 1834 the weight of the eagle was reduced from 270 to 258 grains, and the fineness changed to 9-10. The want of uniformity in the degree of fineness of the American coins, and that in this respect they differed from the coins of other countries, resulted in 1837 in the enactment of other laws prepared by the then Director of the Mint, Mr. R. M. Patterson. By this law the standard of fineness for both silver and gold coins was fixed at 900-1000. The weight of the silver dollar was reduced to 412½ grains. The minor coins were of proportionate weight with the silver dollar and the gold eagle. Subsequently provision was made for the coinage of $1 and $3 gold pieces and a 3-cent silver coin.

In 1853 was enacted the great change in the silver coinage of the United States. The American silver coinage had a greater value as bullion than they had as coins, and, consequently, were gathered up and exported, and the United States were flooded with the worn, defaced and debased coins of other countries, especially of Spain, which were in general use. To remedy this, and to stop the exportation of silver, Congress, in 1853, enacted that the fineness of the silver coin should remain at 900-1000, and the weight of the silver dollar should remain at 412½ grains; the weight of the half dollar should be reduced from 206½ to 192 grains, and of the smaller coins in like proportion. Previous to that time the Mint had always coined silver for any person depositing the bullion; coinage for individuals was, by the Act of 1853, stopped, the Government receiving the seigniorage or profit between the value of metal and the value of the coin, which was then equal to about 3 per cent. Gold and silver then stood in the relation of 16 to 1. In 1857-8 silver was worth $1.21 per ounce in gold, and ranged from that rate up to $1.23 per ounce until of late, when its value has declined to the vicinity of only $1.05 per ounce. With silver at $1.21 per ounce, the Government produced $1.25 in half-dollars or the other small coins. Silver is now selling in London at 52½ to 53 pence per ounce, or something about $1.05 Federal money. The act of 1853 declared that the half dollars and other fractional parts of the silver dollar should no longer be a legal tender beyond the sum of $5. They had previously been a legal tender for any amount.

In 1873 the coinage acts were again revised. The standard of gold and silver coins is fixed at 9-10 fineness. The gold dollar is declared as the unit of value, and its weight fixed at 25.8 grains of 9-10 fineness. The other coins are a quarter and a half of an eagle, a double eagle and a three-dollar piece, all of gold. These are made a legal tender to any amount. The silver coins are a "trade-dollar," weighing 420 grains; a half-dollar, weighing 192.9 grains, with 25, 20 and 10 cent pieces, of weight proportionate to the half-dollar. These are a legal-tender for any sum not exceeding $5 in one payment. The weight of the American half-dollar is half that of the 5-franc silver piece of France, Belgium, and Switzerland, of the 5-lire silver coin of Italy, and of the same weight as the new silver florin of Austria.

At present the law makes gold coins a legal-tender for any amount; National Treasury notes a legal-tender for any amount except where otherwise stipulated in the contract; silver coins a legal-tender to the amount of $5; fractional currency is receivable in exchange for postage and revenue stamps, and other dues of the United States, in sums not exceeding $5; nickel and copper coins a legal-tender to the amount of 25 cents.

WHAT IS FAME.—A gentleman entered a barber shop, when the following colloquy took place: Barber—"Any news?" Gent—"Mr. Stewart is dead, I hear." Barber—"Which Mr. Stewart?" Gent—"A. T. Stewart." Barber (thoughtfully)—"Guess he don't have here."—Boston Journal.

CENTENNIAL TRIPS.—The Pacific railroads having failed from some cause or other to get round trip tickets issued at reduced rates from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic States, many people of moderate means propose making the Centennial trip on the regular accommodation trains, purchasing third-class tickets to New York City for about $38 gold coin each way. Such passengers only travel to Omaha on the emigrant trains, and from there they take comfortable second-class cars via Chicago or St. Louis to their destination, making the through trip from the Pacific to the Atlantic inside of eleven days. As the Eastern bound third-class cars are seldom crowded, the trip can be made in this way with much more comfort and reasonable outlay than most people would suppose. The fare from New York to the Centennial grounds is to be $1 or perhaps less for the round trip tickets.

STATISTICS WANTED.—Gen. Thos. H. Williams, who is to deliver Nevada's address at the Centennial, requests clergymen of the various religious denominations of this State to furnish him the following statistics:

1. The number of their respective churches and membership.
2. The number of their ministers, priests, etc.
3. The number of their private schools and scholars.
4. The number and character of any other institutions connected with their denominations.

I will also consider it a favor to be furnished, by any person, with any other statistics worthy of being noticed in a Centennial address. Please direct the attention of the press of the State to this request. Letters may be addressed to me at Virginia City or San Francisco, at any time prior to the 20th of May, 1876. Respectfully, etc.,

THOMAS H. WILLIAMS.

LANDSLIDE.—Yesterday morning a landslide occurred at Camp 25, which is a little the other side of Verdi, by which a huge boulder, about the size of a box-car, took possession of the track. Frank Free came up from Wadsworth on a special train, to boss the workmen from Truckee. By the energetic use of shovels, powder and "elbow-grease," they cleared it away so that the emigrant train got here eleven hours late. No damage was done, though time-tables were demoralized. About one hundred men were employed in clearing the track. This portion of the road gives trouble after every rain storm.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.—The Democratic State Central Committee to day issues a call for a primary election, to be held Saturday, April 29, for the election of delegates to the State Convention to be held at Carson on Monday, May 15, which is to elect six delegates and six alternates to the National Democratic Convention. The ratio of apportionment to the various counties and all other information pertaining to the matter will be found in the advertisement elsewhere.

MESSAGES.—At the Western Union telegraph office there are messages for James Marshall, Jas. Ward, Chas. Andretta and Ed. Dale. At the Atlantic and Pacific office for Walter Baxter, Thos. Green, Bob. Melon, Adelia Ordway and John M. Santell.

At a meeting last evening of the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated Poe James H. Borland was elected Secretary. He has been there before, and understands his business thoroughly.

DIVORCES GRANTED.—Judge Wright yesterday granted M. L. Swift a divorce from Eliza W. Swift on the ground of mental cruelty. Also a Mrs. Shot from Mr. Shot. The Judge was swift in his shots.

An estray notice, and notice of Administrator's sale, will be found among our new advertisements. Also one of interest to stockmen.

THE EMPEROR OF BRAZIL will be through Reno to-night. He is going directly to San Francisco.

INDIAN SERVICE IN NEVADA.

Our Reservations—The Fishing Interests—The "Policy" a Success in This State—Some Views of the New Agent.

A. J. Barnes, United States Indian Agent of Nevada, has written the following letter to the editor of the Pioche Record. It is of local interest to us and we present it to our readers: I have had in mind for some time to write you relative to the Indian service in Nevada, now under my care, as all agencies of the State were consolidated into one upon the resignation of Rev. C. A. Bateman and the headquarters of the agency established at Pyramid Lake, with postoffice at Wadsworth.

The present reservations are Pyramid Lake, Walker River, Moapa River and Shoshone farms, north of Carlin, and all are in a prosperous condition and in good shape for successful work and results the present year.

The fishing interests upon the Pyramid Lake reservation have been unusually prosperous the past Winter, and with all the points well managed and a sufficiency of teams and tools, nothing prevents the anticipated results.

If there is language in well defined effort and true enthusiasm both on the part of employees and Indians, we shall prove that the "policy" is not a farce in Nevada, whatever may be charged elsewhere, and I most earnestly desire that even the doubtful shall be convinced that this is not a sentimentalism but an undeniable fact.

It is not my intention to avail myself of unmeaning and unwarranted newspaper articles, but to show by work—earnest work—that I not only believe in the humanitarian plan of civilizing Indians but demonstrate the fact of the entire feasibility of the effort. I have labored under some disadvantages by the delays at Washington to fill my requisitions, but as large bodies move slowly, I waited my turn, necessarily, but not always patiently. I trust I shall have the interest and co-operation of all parties interested in the Indians of our State, while endeavoring to carry forward the work so well begun already.

I hope to visit your section soon, expected to have done so before this, but sickness has hindered me. In fact the exposure to which I was subjected last December—going to Washington and returning, together with extra labor in assuming the duties and systematizing the consolidated service—has obliged me to keep my room most of the past quarter. Owing to this fact I have been compelled to ask my worthy friend, the former incumbent of this agency, Rev. C. A. Bateman, to aid me in my work. Though engaged in another service claiming his full attention, he has cheerfully doubled his labors to comply with my request. He is now on his way to Moapa River Indian Reserve, Southeast Nevada, and will be pleased to see as many of the good people of Pioche as possible—on his way down or returning.

A NEW VARIETY STORE.—Napoleon B. Jones, an old resident of Washoe county, has started a variety store on the east side Virginia street, just in the rear of the Capital Restaurant. Mr. Jones is a sober, industrious and honest man. Wherever he has made acquaintances he has made friends. His health has been poor for the last year and it became necessary for him to start in some light business, and he hopes by close attention to business to merit a reasonable share of patronage from the citizens of Reno.

ACQUITTED.—D. H. Flynn, accused of an assault with intent to murder Geo. Hutton, was tried in the District Court day before yesterday, and acquitted. Lawyer Boardman managed his case with a great deal of credit.

ALL members of Reno Encampment, I. O. O. F. are desired to meet to-morrow evening. Business of importance will come before the meeting.

ANOTHER brick from the Consolidated Poe last night, weighing seventy-five pounds. There was amalgam enough to make still another, but they did not have time to cast it.

VAG.—John Morton was sent up for fifteen days yesterday on a charge of vagrancy. Including him, there are seven prisoners in the county jail.

MR. PRESCOTT, the leading dry goods merchant of this place, has returned from the city, and we must admit his importations of Spring and Summer dry goods excel anything that has ever been brought to this town, either in quality, quantity, style or price. He informs us that goods are low and at such figures only will he dispose of them. Mr. Prescott has had twenty-five years' experience in the business and during all that time he has been known to deal fairly with all, and such are his intentions for the future, so ladies, if you intend to buy goods this season his is the establishment, and all are cordially invited to call.

VEGETABLES, FRUIT, ETC.—Salisbury & Reyburn constantly keep on hand a full supply of vegetables, candies, nuts and all that kind of goods. They sell as cheap as any house in town. Let any one wanting anything in their line call and see them.

HIGH TIME.—The Royal Arch Chapter of Masons had a jolly time last night putting B. B. Norton through the high ranks, on which occasion High Priest Bell was assisted by prominent Masons of Virginia. After the ceremony a grand collation was partaken of at the Depot Hotel.

NEW STOCK.—Hagerman's new stock, just purchased in San Francisco, has commenced to arrive. He claims it will be the largest, best and cheapest, ever brought to town. Call around and see.

RIVER HIGH.—The Truckee is raging, and almost up to high water mark. We should judge the flood-gates at Lake Tahoe had been raised a little.

A MAN named Sullivan was disemboweled by a man named Donnelly in Pioche day before yesterday.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

FOR SALE.—All kinds of fruit trees, roses, lilacs, pinks, variety of roots, plants. Persons who wish for shade in warm weather—keep roots can be had at S. Comer's Nursery. apt
